

Day 1 Schedule (Thursday, May 6)

All events were held on Zoom. All times are listed in CDT (Chicago time).

Left column/Plenaries: Zoom Room A Right column: Zoom Room B

10:00 AM		OPENING REMARKS
10:00-11:00	Invited Presenter: Sandhya Sundaresan (University of Göttingen) A theory of null subjects and its implications for the selective opacity of adjuncts
	Special Session		General Session
	SYNTAX OF SOUTH ASIAN LANGUAGES		GENERAL I
11:15-11:45	Troy Messick & Sreekar Raghtham (Rutgers University): Morphosyntax values itself		Jun Lyu (University of Southern California), Yaning Yan (Renmin University of China) & Elsi Kaiser (University of Southern California): Disentangling locality and reency in the processing of Chinese reflexives
11:45 AM-12:15 PM	Ishani Guha (University of Delhi), Swar- nendu Moitra (Jadavpur University) & Paul Marty (University College London): Inverse Scope in scrambling languages: the case of Bangla		Sean Foley (UNC-Chapel Hill): The acoustics of apical vowels in two endangered Ngwi languages
12:15-12:45	Samir Alam & Elango Kumaran: (University of Southern California): Focus and multiple agreement in Maithili		Andrija Petrovic (Stony Brook University): Vowel fronting in Serbian noun inflection
12:45-1:30	LUNCH
	General Session		General Session
	SEMANTICS I		SYNTAX I
1:30-2:00	Alexander Wimmer (Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen) & Toshiko Oda (Tokyo Keizai University): Regretful concessions: on Japanese ‘noni’		Fulang Chen (MIT): Three anti long-distance dependency effects in Mandarin BEI-construction
2:00-2:30	Elizabeth Sola-Llonch (UCLA): A first look at conditionals and counterfactual conditionals in Lachirioag Zapotec		Robin Jenkins (University of Connecticut): Scrambling and Successive Cyclic Movement In Turkish and Uyghur
2:30-3:00	Alexander Wimmer (Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen): Keeping ‘only’ exclusive in conditional antecedents		Aaron Doliana (University of Maryland): Why must wh-quantifiers in German strand with complex wh-phrases?
3:00-3:15	15-MINUTE BREAK
3:15-4:15	Invited Presenter: Kelly E. Wright (University of Michigan) Race & Language: Considering Black Linguistic Experiences
4:15-4:30	15-MINUTE BREAK
	Poster Session I		Poster Session II
	GENERAL		SYNTAX & SEMANTICS
4:30-4:40	Eszter Ótott-Kovács (Cornell University): Assistive: A New Type of Argument Introducing Head		Alexandros Kalomoiros (University of Pennsylvania): Bare singulars and Pseudo-Incorporation in Western Armenian
4:40-4:50	Eleanor Glewwe (Grinnell College): The Phonological Determinants of Tone in English Loanwords in Mandarin		Teruyuki Mizuno (University of Connecticut): Argument ellipsis, topicality, and a theory of null anaphora
4:50-5:00	Kaili Vesik (University of British Columbia): Vowel quantity contrasts in Estonian choral music		Ruyue Agnes Bi (MIT): Evaluativity triggered by scalar particles: a pragmatic approach

5:00-5:10 Sreekar Raghotham (Rutgers University): Privativity and Number Features: The view from Telugu Aviv Schoenfeld (Tel Aviv University): Possessive relations and maximality

5:10-6:00 POSTER MINGLE IN BREAKOUT ROOMS

Day 2 Schedule (Friday, May 7)

Left column/Plenaries: Zoom Room A Right column: Zoom Room B

10:00-11:00 AM	Invited Presenter: Ruth Kramer (Georgetown University)
	Determining the Impact of Phonological Factors in Grammatical Gender Assignment: Case Studies and Theoretical Implications
	General Session SYNTAX II	General Session SEMANTICS II
11:15-11:45	Jason Smith (Michigan State University): Case and Word Order in Mende	Julie Goncharov (Georg-August University of Goettingen) & Lavi Wolf (The Hebrew University of Jerusalem): Granularity in the polarity system
11:45 AM - 12:15 PM	Lefteris Papparounas & Martin Salzmann (University of Pennsylvania): First conjunct clitic doubling in Modern Greek - Implications for the theory of clitic doubling, the PCC, and the syntax of first conjunct agreement	Joshua Martin (Harvard University): Emergent privativity and constrained modulation in adjective semantics
12:15-12:45		Hary Chow & Marcin Morzycki (University of British Columbia): Zero, Measurement, Nominal Semantics, and the Ontology of Pluralities in Cantonese
12:45-1:30	LUNCH
	Poster Session III GENERAL	Poster Session IV SIGN LINGUISTICS
1:30-1:40	Pamela Goryczka (University of Vienna): Tutto è bene quel che finisce bene: Revisiting the function of the -isc- augment in Italo-Romance varieties	Kathleen Currie Hall, Oksana Tkachman & Yurika Aonuki (University of British Columbia): Perceived Magnitudes of Movement in American Sign Language
1:40-1:50	Martín Fuchs (Utrecht University): The Diachrony of the Present Progressive and the Simple Present in Spanish	Hande Sevgi (Harvard University): Syntax on its own is not enough: Sign language classifiers
1:50-2:00		Elena Koulidobrova (Central Connecticut State University), Gabriel Martinez Vera (Goethe Universität), Kim Kurz (Rochester Institute of Technology) & Christopher Kurz (Rochester Institute of Technology): Revisiting gradability in ASL
2:00-2:10		Yuko Asada (Showa Women's University): Weak hand holds of number signs in Japanese Sign Language
2:10-3:00	POSTER MINGLE IN BREAKOUT ROOMS
3:00-3:15	15-MINUTE BREAK
3:15-4:15	Invited Presenter: Kirby Conrod (University of Washington) Queering the Narrow Syntax
4:15-4:30	15-MINUTE BREAK
	Special Session PHONOLOGY-SYNTAX INTERFACE	General Session SEMANTICS III

4:30-5:00	Lara Mantovan (Ca' Foscari University Venice): On phrase-final lengthening in Italian Sign Language (LIS), a gradient phenomenon at interface	Marcin Wagił & Pavel Caha (Masaryk University in Brno): The architecture of basic cardinal numerals
5:00-5:30	Shengyun Gu (University of Connecticut): On weak hand spread in Shanghai Sign Language: Positive and negative evidence	Jens Hopperdietzel (University of Manchester): “Verb”-framed resultatives in a serializing language: Evidence from Samoan
5:30-6:00	Ksenia Bogomolets (University of Auckland): Syntactic influences on stress: Noun Incorporation and Denominal Verbs in Choguita Rarámuri

Day 3 Schedule (Saturday, May 8)

Left column/Plenaries: Zoom Room A Right column: Zoom Room B

10:00-11:00 AM	Invited Presenter: Vadim Kimmelman (University of Bergen)
	Lexical variation in sign languages: lessons from Russian Sign Language
	General Session	General Session
	SEMANTICS & PRAGMATICS	SOCIOLINGUISTICS
11:15-11:45	Devin Tankersley (University of New Mexico): Asking and Questioning: a look at the distribution of interrogative non-manual markers in American Sign Language	Gabriella Licata (UC Berkeley): Sorry, not Sorry: An Intersectional Analysis of Congressman Ted Yoho's Infelicitous Apology
11:45 AM - 12:15 PM	William Thomas (The Ohio State University): Taking stock of theories of the imperative: Evidence from the behavior of "just"	Rebecca Lee (University of Colorado Boulder): "Nothing racist in that comment": Spatial metaphor, syntactic variation, and socio-polysemy
12:15-12:45	Peter Grishin (MIT): Assertions without belief: the semantics of partially deniable evidentials	Suzie Telep (University of Paris): Performing whiteness through language and body: the construction of a "dominant black woman" ethos at the intersection of race, gender and class
12:45-1:30	LUNCH
	Special Session	General Session
	LANGUAGE CHANGE	SYNTAX III
1:30-2:00	Martin Kohlberger (University of Saskatchewan): The importance of natural speech corpora in identifying pathways of language change	Dennis Ott & Gabriel DeRooy (University of Ottawa): The Syntactic Structures of Free Relative Clauses: New Evidence from Reconstruction
2:00-2:30	Evipridis Tsiakmakis & M. Teresa Espinal (Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona): Modern Greek min revisited: Distribution, Meaning and the Grammaticalization Path	Thomas McFadden (Leibniz-Zentrum Allgemeine Sprachwissenschaft): Tamil allocutive agreement, the representation of the Speech Act, and the theory of phi-agreement
2:30-2:35	5-minute pee break
2:35-3:05	Tory Sampson & Rachel Mayberry (University of California, San Diego): A Copular SELF: The Copula Cycle in American Sign Language	Ksenia Ershova (Stanford University): Configurationality in Polysynthesis: Weak Crossover in West Circassian
3:05-3:35	Natália Brambatti Guzzo & Avery Franken (McGill University): Examining contact effects in a written corpus: Subjects in Brazilian Veneto	Suzana Fong (MIT): Distinguishing between accounts of the A/A'-distinction: the view from Argentinian Spanish Clitic Doubling
3:35-3:45	10-MINUTE BREAK
3:45-4:45	Invited Presenter: Tulio Bermúdez (University of Chicago)
	Speech play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future
4:45	CLOSING REMARKS	